NHS DOCTOR RECEIVES BRONZE AT THE INDEPENDENT PUBLISHERS AWARDS WITH DEBUT TITLE ‘THE GREAT ALIEN CAKE OFF’

FROM YOU TO ME are delighted to have won a Bronze Medal at the Independent Publishers International Book Awards 2020 with Rachel McCoubrie’s debut book ‘The Great Alien Cake Off’. The book, which was published in late August 2019, was written by Rachel who also works as a doctor in a busy NHS hospital in Bristol.

The picture book, illustrated by Robert McPhillips, is a fantastical rhyming story based on the planet Cookie Dreams. Everyone lives exclusively off biscuits, until one day a young alien called Zappo discovers cake. Soon the other alien parents learn to bake and start to get competitive about their cakes. The headteacher decides to put it to the test and organises a cake off competition at the school. Full of wonderful alien characters who get a little carried away with their new-found love of cake making and accidentally create more than they bargained for . . . what happens next is literally out of this world.

Rachel has created a story that will help unite families as they explore the illustrations and read this clever rhyming book together.

Helen Stephens, Creative Director at FROM YOU TO ME, said “We were delighted to receive Bronze for this title. Rachel is at the start of her writing career and this is such an amazing accolade to get for a first book. We love producing unforgettable and entertaining colour illustrated books for children of all ages to explore and read time and time again – and this one definitely hits the mark.”
